About the Minnesota Magic

The Minnesota Magic program is made up of players who have a true passion for the game and want to compete at the highest level. Magic players compete against the best teams in the 5-state area, and travel to top national events across the country. Our winter training takes place at Hamline University, with winter and summer practices in the Twin City East Metro Area.

Player Fees

Typical costs for the season for each player are $1,600 for Purple teams and $1,800 for Gold teams. 18U team costs are approximately $1,500. These fees cover:

- Winter training - all Minnesota Magic teams train indoors throughout the winter at Hamline University in St. Paul and Gethsemane Lutheran Church in Maplewood.
- Skill development and training with college coaches throughout the year at no extra cost to players.
- Season fees, including tournament entry fees, equipment and coaching fees.

Fundraising Opportunities

The Minnesota Magic offers several sponsorship and fundraising opportunities. Participating in up to four fundraising events throughout the year can substantially lower your player fees. Funds generated by these programs go directly into the individual player's account. There are also team fundraising events that may happen throughout the year.

Players attend winter training up to two times a week in the winter and as often as three to five times a week during the season.

Playing Time

Playing time and positions are not guaranteed. Each player must earn their position and time on the field.

Fall Ball, Dome Ball
